

Royal Geological Society of Cornwall Annual Dinner. Sat 15th February 2020

6.00pm for 6.30 pm at The Queens Hotel

The Promenade PENZANCE TR18 4HG

You are cordially invited to the AGM DINNER of the RGSC, in the Lounge at The Queens Hotel.

We have left the first home of our Society where the theatrical & cock fighting distractions sharing the venue two centuries ago, caused our founding fathers to move within the year to a quieter venue in Chapel Street before moving on to The Market House, then to North Parade..However now, following an AGM in our recently restored Penzance home, formerly The West Wing ,St John's Hall, we move down Morrab Road to the Majestic QUEENS HOTEL to round off the day.

following The Annual Lecture given at the AGM by professor Dianne Edwards MA, PhD, ScD, (Cantab), CBE, FRS, FRSE, FLS, FLSW.
Research Professor... School of Earth & Ocean Sciences. Cardiff

“Could early plants have bioengineered the planet,
... transforming it from a greenhouse to an icehouse world ?” ...
